HUSH, Introduction

Outcomes for Today

Unit Roadmap

- Unit's big idea or theme = Justice requires Restraint.
- Definition: There are things I cannot say or do to any other person, the planet or myself because justice demands it. The actions I take and the decisions I make must respect the rights of all.
- Ideally this would be posted in your classroom.

Background information: This is a story about a family that enters the Witness Protection Program. Teachers may choose to share that information ahead of time, or let the story unfold and tell them when it occurs.

The Witness Protection Program

- There is a state and a federal witness protection program
- The federal government gives grants to the states to enable them to provide the witness protection program.
- The federal program is called WITSEC (the Federal Witness Protection Program) and was founded in the late 1960's by Gerald Shur when he was in the Organized Crime and Racketeering Section of the United States Department of Justice.
- The laws and regulations identifying and outlining the Witness Protection Program are outlined in the Witness Protection Act of 1996.
- The Witness Protection Program is run by the NSW Police Service

The Witness Protection Program is defined as a state or federal program designed to protect prosecution witnesses in serious criminal cases especially from bodily injury or tampering (as by providing aid in establishing a new identity in a new location) from serious criminals, organized crime, etc.

A person is admitted into the Witness Protection Program when:

- They face high risk of their and/or their family's security within the community
- The witness may need to testify in criminal trials

The Witness Protection Program includes the following:

- May provide for the relocation and protection of a witness and/or family.
- Offered protection against intimidation before their testimony or criminal retaliation after.
- Relocation and new identities to witnesses who risk their lives by giving their testimony, this is provided by the U.S. Federal Government or by the state government.
- Protect the safety and welfare of essential witnesses and others who have given information to police concerning criminal activity.

Character Based Literacy Program 60-Minute Lesson Plan

HUSH, Day 1

Outcomes for Today

W1. Write arguments to support claims with clear reasons and relevant evidence.

a.) Introduce claim(s), acknowledge alternate or opposing claims, and organize the reasons and evidence logically.

b.) Support claim(s) with logical reasoning and relevant evidence, using accurate, credible sources and demonstrating an understanding of the topic or text.

c.) Use words, phrases, and clauses to create cohesion and clarify the relationships among claim(s), reasons, and evidence.

d.) Establish and maintain a formal style.

e.) Provide a concluding statement or section that follows from and supports the argument presented.

W6. Use technology, including the Internet, to produce and publish writing and link to and cite sources as well as to interact and collaborate with others, including linking to and citing sources.

W8. Gather relevant information from multiple print and digital sources, using search terms effectively; assess the credibility and accuracy of each source; and quote or paraphrase the data and conclusions of others while avoiding plagiarism and following a standard format for citation.

W10. Write routinely over extended time frames (time for research, reflection, and revision) and shorter time frames (a single sitting or a day or two) for a range of discipline-specific tasks, purposes, and audiences.

PREPARE

Background Gather background knowledge about a place, time, event, person, or thing.

Justice Requires Restraint. Justice demands I not say or do some things to myself, any other person, or the planet because justice demands it. The actions I take and the decisions I make must respect the rights of all.

Who is Jacqueline Woodson?

The author of Hush was born in Columbus, Ohio and grew up in Greenville, South Carolina. Her family, including her three siblings, moved to Brooklyn when she was seven. She has always loved to write, and started getting recognition for her stories when she was in fifth grade. She still lives in Brooklyn today, and has published many novels for children and young adults. While only a handful of her novels have autobiographical content, she says that she has felt every emotion that any of her characters have experienced. She encourages students and readers of her novels to never stop reading and writing. For more information, visit the author's website at:

Review Review the timeline from the beginning every day.

Start at the beginning and review the story so far

- Mention the setting and main character.
- Point to each timeline item as you quickly review it.

Read Read the selection, usually in a Shared Reading Read React Predict Cycle of 2-3 pages.

Read p. 1-5

Setting	Characters	Pages
Colorado	Mother. Father	1-5
	13 year old Cameron
	12 year old Toswiah- narrator

RESPOND

Timeline Agree on the facts in today's reading and list the 3-5 most important on the timeline.

Students might mention

- Toswiah is recalling her mother's good cooking.
- She is afraid that her father, who is a police officer, will get killed.
- Her father comes home and they have dinner.
- There is foreshadowing that something is going to happen and everything is going to be different.

Map Add to ongoing class activities like a KWL chart or map: where did the characters go?

Map

Create a map to trace the movements of the characters throughout the novel.

Map Materials

- Stiff paper 11x17 or bigger to make a map
- Or a printed map of the area
- Push pins or something else to mark the map
- Pencils, pens, crayons, markers
- Construction paper, scissors, glue sticks if desired

Step One: Find or make a map of the setting in the story.

Make sure key places are located on the map. Remember this map needs to be big enough to mark many things on.

Step Two: After today's reading, place a mark where the story left off.

Decide where the story leaves off [or ends] today – this is usually the location of the main character. Put a pin or other marker at this spot.

Step Three: Add or mark important places in the story on the map.

Decide if any of the places in today's reading are important for this story. Either add these places to the map or mark them.

EXPLORE

Discussion Ask discussion questions of all 9 types.

Key Questions

1. How does Toswiah's life sound in CO? Does she sound happy?
2. Why do you think the author chose to begin the novel this way?
3. What literary device is the author using in this reading?
4. Who is in her family?
5. What does her father do for a living?
6. What can you tell about her father and his values so far?
7. What do you think will happen to her family by the end of the novel?
8. Who is the most important person in your family? Why?
9. Have you read any other books about families of policemen? What happened in them?
10. What is her greatest fear?

Analyze Analyze the key paragraph.

Key Paragraph, p. 3

"Some nights she is afraid her father will never come home. That he will never walk through that door, take off his hat and his badge, unfasten his holster and place it beside everything else on the table in the mud room. She reads the papers. She knows that cops get killed all the time. Even at her school she's heard kids say they hate cops" (p. 3).

EXTEND

Write Have each student write a short product based on today's prompt to connect to the unit theme.

It is normal to be afraid, especially of something, which you have no control over. However, it is important not to let fear rule your life.

In a short product, make an argument for why the narrator should not let herself be overcome by fear. Give some suggestions for how she can lessen her fear, using examples from the novel or from your own life. Make sure to cite your sources appropriately.

Close Close by extending today's lesson to life and the world.

Extend the reading to the students' lives or to the world.

Where is Denver?

Denver is the largest city in, and the capital of Colorado. The city is almost exactly a mile above sea level, resulting in the nickname of The Mile-High City. The city was originally founded in 1858 as a mining town. It is located at the foot of the Rocky Mountains on the High Plains, resulting in sudden changes in weather. Temperatures can be very cold, or very hot, depending on the season.

RESPOND

Timeline Agree on the facts in today's reading and list the 3-5 most important on the timeline.

Students might mention:

- Evie talks about how she can't call herself Toswiah anymore.
- She has memories of Denver and her friends and misses it very much.
- She doesn't like her new home.
- Boys tease her and call her Neckbone.
- She remembers her mother a few years ago, in Denver, cooking. Mother was always afraid of dad not coming home.

Map Add to ongoing class activities like a KWL chart or map: where did the characters go?

Bookmark

Toswiah couldn't bring everything with her when she moved. Put yourself in her situation, and think about what you would find essential to have with you. You can add to this suitcase as the story progresses and you think of things that would be important to you.

Materials

- pieces of stiff paper [like oak tag] 6-10 inches wide and 5-10 inches long
- some combination of pencil, pen, crayon, or marker
- construction paper, scissors and glue sticks if desired

Step One: Make a list of things you would take with you in your suitcase.

Imagine that you are going to be moving around from place to place for the next years. What are the most important things you have? What are the things you would always want to have with you? Everything you take has to fit in one suitcase. Make a list of the things you would take.

Comment: This suitcase is filled with things you actually have and that are important to you. Of course, because you are a responsible person it does not include any weapons, drugs, alcohol, or anything illegal.

Step Two: Make a bookmark like a suitcase full of things you would take.

Make a bookmark about 6-10 inches wide and 5-10 inches long, and then fold in half. Make the items on your list out of construction paper and glue them inside the suitcase. Make the outside of the suitcase look like a suitcase.

Step Three: As you read the story you can add things to your suitcase

Variations of this Bookmark

Draw the items inside the suitcase with a marker instead of gluing construction paper.

Make a bigger suitcase – even life size if you want, or wall size, or 3D.

Variations for Writing

Write a paragraph describing yourself packing a suitcase and deciding what to bring and why, on the road. Pick one important item in your suitcase and write a paragraph explaining why it is important you.

EXPLORE

Discussion Ask discussion questions of all 9 types.

Key Questions

1. What does Evie mean by saying all you have is your soul?
2. Does Evie miss her old home? Why?
3. Have you ever moved away from your friends or home? How did you feel?
4. Why does Evie's family have to move?
5. Have you read any other novels where a character had to leave their home to escape something? What happened?
6. How does the author's writing capture Evie's emotions about her family's move?
7. Why do you think the author chose to depict Evie the way she did?
8. What does Evie's reaction to her family's move tell you about her values?
9. What do you think will happen to Evie's family after they have lived in their new home for a while?

Analyze Analyze the key paragraph.

Key Paragraph, p. 9

"There is a song that goes All that you have is your soul...It is true. When it comes down to it, every single other thing can be taken clean away from you. Or you can be taken clean away from it" (p. 9).

EXTEND

Write Have each student write a short product based on today's prompt to connect to the unit theme.

As Toswiah is experiencing, the only thing that cannot be taken away from you is your soul. In one to two paragraphs, make an argument for why this is important to remember in your daily life. How would believing in this concept change your view of the world, your goals, and your values? Include examples from your own life or from the novel to support your argument.

Who are The Jehovah's Witnesses?

The Jehovah's Witnesses are a specific group of Christians, with beliefs very distinct from Christianity. They believe that the present world system will be destroyed at Armageddon, and that God's kingdom will be established on Earth, which will solve all of humanity's problems. The group formed in the 1870's in Pennsylvania.

Students might mention:

- Evie tells the story of how her family had to leave Denver in the middle of the night.
- She explains how they had to leave everything behind and how even the realtor had to tell the new owners of their old house a lie about who lived there.
- It was very sad to leave her grandmother behind.
- Mama becomes very interested in the Jehovah's Witnesses after the move.
- Evie talks about her "made-up" history as a person who "grew up in San Francisco."

Discussion Ask discussion questions of all 9 types.

Key Questions

1. How does Evie feel about leaving her grandmother and all her belongings in Denver?
2. How would you feel about this situation if you were Evie?
3. Have you ever wanted to leave behind everything and move somewhere where nobody knew who you were? What are the pros and cons of this solution?
4. What does Evie overhear her father talking about (page 24) and what is the Blue Wall of Silence?
5. What does the existence of the Blue Wall of Silence tell you about the policemen in the novel? Why is this a good thing, and a bad thing?
6. Have you read any other books where a character was in a situation like Evie's fathers? What happened?
7. Why do you think the author chose to make Evie's father a policeman?
8. What do you think will ultimately happen to Evie's father?
9. What fictional city does she now have to tell people she is from?
10. What details about San Francisco does she include in her new biography?

Analyze Analyze the key paragraph.

Key Paragraph, p. 24

What are political rallies?

They are also known as demonstrations or protests, are gatherings of groups of people in support of or to raise awareness for a certain cause. Sometimes they consist of marching as a group from one location to another, meeting at a certain point to listen to speakers, or creating a human blockade, disrupting life to bring attention to the protesters. These rallies are usually nonviolent, but can become violent, depending on the circumstances. Rallies and demonstrations can be very effective at raising support for a cause.

What is the Witness Protection Program?

It is run by the United States Department of Justice, and is designed to protect witnesses before, during, and after a trial. This program has never had a breach in security resulting in witnesses or their families being harmed. Witnesses and their families are given new identities with authentic documentation. And are moved to a new location to protect them. Witnesses are given money for their essential living costs, and provided with job training and employment assistance to help them adapt to their new environment. Witnesses are permitted to leave this program and return to their original identities at any time, though this is discouraged.

What is Isolation?

It is the process or fact of being alone, or without the contact of other people or society. This can produce very severe, negative reactions in human beings. Isolated individuals may experience feelings of loneliness, fear of others, and negative self-esteem. What social interactions they do have may feel superficial. What is Head Lice?

They are parasites that live on human hair and feed on human blood. They spread very easily, but are fortunately fairly simple to treat, though not to get rid of completely. A chemical wash can be used to kill the adult lice, but this does not kill the eggs. Wet combing will remove the live and the eggs, but must be repeated every three to seven days because of the life cycle of the lice. After treatment, all clothing and bedding should be washed, and combs and brushes should be boiled or frozen to kill any lice remaining on them.

W1. Write arguments to support claims with clear reasons and relevant evidence.

a.) Introduce claim(s), acknowledge alternate or opposing claims, and organize the reasons and evidence logically.

b.) Support claim(s) with logical reasoning and relevant evidence, using accurate, credible sources and demonstrating an understanding of the topic or text.

c.) Use words, phrases, and clauses to create cohesion and clarify the relationships among claim(s), reasons, and evidence.

d.) Establish and maintain a formal style.

e.) Provide a concluding statement or section that follows from and supports the argument presented.

W6. Use technology, including the Internet, to produce and publish writing and link to and cite sources as well as to interact and collaborate with others, including linking to and citing sources.

W8. Gather relevant information from multiple print and digital sources, using search terms effectively; assess the credibility and accuracy of each source; and quote or paraphrase the data and conclusions of others while avoiding plagiarism and following a standard format for citation.

W10. Write routinely over extended time frames (time for research, reflection, and revision) and shorter time frames (a single sitting or a day or two) for a range of discipline-specific tasks, purposes, and audiences.

What is track and field?

It is a sport that combines various events of running, jumping and throwing. There are many events in each category, ranging from sprints, to high jumps, to shot-put. The first recorded track and field event happened in the Ancient Olympic Games, in 776 BC. Many rules govern this athletic activity.

Who is Wilma Rudolph?

In the 1960 summer Olympics, Wilma Rudolph became the first American woman to win three gold medals in track and field during a single Olympic Games. As a black woman, she is considered a civil rights and women's rights pioneer. She was considered the fastest woman in the world during the 1960's. She overcame being born prematurely, and Polio, which caused her to have to wear a brace on her leg, as well as stereotypes and oppression to accomplish what she did.

What is Depression and Suicide?

As mentioned earlier, depression causes problems with people's self-worth and view of reality. It causes them to lose hope. When a depressed person believes that there is no hope left for them, they may try to commit suicide. Often, this is not because they want to die so much as they want to end the pain that they feel. It is important to pay attention to the warning signs of suicide (giving away possessions, talking about death, a sudden upswing in mood, etc.) and address them by getting the person help.

What is a Mental hospital?

Mental hospitals are institutions where people suffering from mental illness can get the help that they need. They are monitored 24 hours a day, and receive therapy. They are able to relax and focus on recovering with a group that understands their circumstances. While mental hospitals used to be very negative places, now they are much more positive and helpful to the people they serve.

"Me and Daddy stare at each other for a long time—two, old, old buddies who knew each other when" (p. 180).

EXTEND

Write Have each student write a short product based on today's prompt to connect to the unit theme.

Sharing secrets can unite people, or it can tear them apart. In a short product, make an argument for whether the sharing of secrets is a good thing or a bad thing.

Close Close by extending today's lesson to life and the world.

Extend the reading to the students' lives or to the world.
